

INTERNATIONAL PARTNERSHIP FOR
BLUE CARBON

The International Partnership for Blue Carbon is a voluntary partnership bringing together governments, international organisations, research institutions and civil society.

Partners seek to protect and restore coastal ecosystems – mangroves, tidal marshes and seagrasses – in recognition of their value for climate change mitigation and adaptation and other ecosystem services.

Building awareness

Exchanging knowledge

Accelerating
practical action

For more information go to BlueCarbonPartnership.org
To contact the coordinator use the Contact form on the website.